Short Description

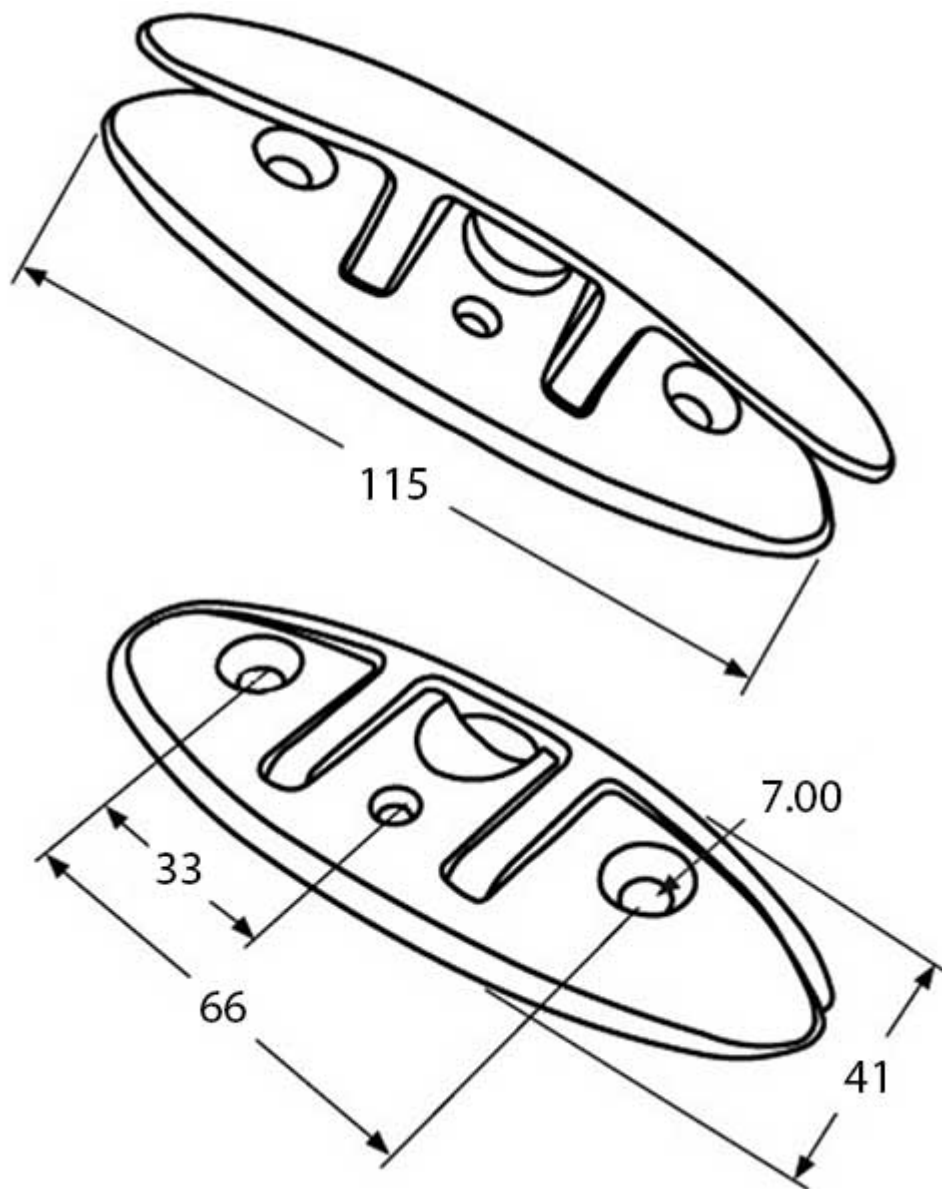

316-grade stainless steel folding cleat.

This folding cleat has a neat design which allows the cleat to hinge down into its base when not in use, reducing the risk of tripping when on deck. The product is made from 316-grade stainless steel which is the most resistant to corrosion material. The product is secured in place with 3x countersunk screws, 2x M6 and 1x M4, which can be purchased separately; please see the related products section below.
